

"H.M.S. Pinafore" Sails Away At Lincoln-Way

Sad Homecoming At L-W -- Vikings Win

Last Saturday was Homecoming at Lincoln-Way High School. Tina Burns, the queen, and members of her court were on hand and there was a dance at the school in the evening. And escorting the queen was Mr. Touchdown. It had all the makings of a gala affair -- except for one thing. To make a Homecoming complete a school must win the football game. Lincoln-Way didn't.

The Vikings, as the Home-wood - Flossmoors are called, were not very kind to their hosts. They scored in every quarter and at the same time prevented the Knights from getting a counter of any description so the game wound up with Lincoln-Way on the short end of a 28-0 score.

The statistics pretty well tell the story. The winners racked up 22 first downs to 13 for the losers; 222 yards rushing to 93; 178 yards passing to 96.

The invaders wasted little time in getting on the score board. The Vikings took the opening kickoff to their 34. Four carries put the ball on the Knights 20 and on the next play the visiting quarterback, Don Detrich hit Ronnie Baum with a touchdown pass. Eward Kempa, who kicks out of the side of his mouth like a soccer player, accounted for the extra point, a performance he was to repeat on three more occasions. Kempa also intercepted one of Lincoln-Way's passes.

The Lincoln-Way crew fought valiantly and hard but couldn't sustain an offense. Detrich sneaked over from the one yard mark for the second Viking touchdown, and Mike Nielsen went over in the third quarter. That Kempa not only made points with his foot but he also made some lengthy gallops and in the fourth quarter swept around an end for the fourth touchdown.

The Vikings take on Sand-burg this weekend. The Eagles downed Bremen last weekend and had to work to do it. This week the Lincoln-Ways will play Reavis, there.

VAUGHN KARKAS (No. 27) of Lincoln-Way snared this pass alright but as one can see he didn't have much opportunity to take it anyplace. Too many Vikings, too close.

Mokena Mall Plan Gets Village Board Backing

The Village of Mokena plans to purchase the property along Front St., from Wolf Rd. to Mokena St. for a mall planted with trees and shrubbery and an improved surface for free parking.

This decision was reached by the village board at its regular meeting last week. The trustees instructed the village attorney to draft a notice of intent to purchase the real estate. Such notice shall be published twice and then after a 60 day period the village can proceed with the purchase, providing the program does not encounter legal objections.

The property involved is 900 feet in length and is 50 feet in width. If the village acquires this land it can also lease the property immediately south, from the Rock Island Lines, which would be another 50-foot strip of the same length as the front piece.

The strip to be purchased L-W Choir To Stage Operetta

The Lincoln - Way High School a cappella choir will present Gilbert and Sullivan's "H.M.S. Pinafore" as its annual fall operetta, on Nov. 7, 8 and 9. All performances will begin at 8 p.m. and tickets are now on sale by all chorus students.

Principal singing parts will be taken by Pat Lauffer from Frankfort, Linda Helgerson, Shirley Janner, Bonnie Walleschlaegher, Jim Lang and Tom Gilbert from Mokena, Brad Smith and Pat Davis from Manhattan, Larry Martin and Rick Otis from New Lenox, and Skip Fitch from Arbury Hills. Accompanists for the operetta will be Kathy Rauch assisted by Kedra Welsch.

It's Time To Change Time

This Sunday, Oct. 27, is the day you turn your clocks back to standard time.

Theoretically, one is supposed to get back the hour of sleep lost last April when he went to bed later and got up earlier but it never seems to work out that way. One always manages to lose another hour in turning the clocks back, on the theory that it is earlier than you think.

Officially, the time to set one's timepiece back will be 2 a.m. Sunday. This is well enough for those who go to bed at 2 a.m. But if you sack in earlier it is best to make the change then. Otherwise you may find yourself at breakfast or church an hour ahead of time.

is owned by the Rock Island and Sheldon W. Hauck, New Lenox businessman. The railroad owns 650 feet and Hauck the 250 feet, east of Wolf Rd. He purchased it from the Rock Island some years ago.

Total price for the property is $30,500, of which $19,000 would go to the railroad and $11,500 to Hauck.

According to Cadet Cottingham, chairman of the Mokena Chamber of Commerce Mall committee, the Rock Island is prepared to make a 100-year lease for the remainder of the property to the village for a reportedly nominal sum.

The plan is to lay curving sidewalks, and put in plantings for the mall and there would still be room to park 130 cars, Cottingham. The lot on the southside of the depot also would be improved and 28 more cars could be parked there, it was said.

Businessmen and others have contributed $5,000 to date, according to Cottingham, and this sum has been earmarked for the initial payment for the property. The remainder of the money due on the land, $25,500 would be raised thru a mortgage that would be assumed by the village.

The Chamber of Commerce, with the help of other organizations and individuals plans to raise approximately $40,000 for the development of the tract. Of this sum $7,500 has been pledged to date, Cottingham said. The figure, $12,500, which was mentioned at the village board meeting includes the $5,000 cash for the down payment, Cottingham explained.

Those backing development of the Mall say it will enhance property values in the community because it will put Mokena in a more attractive light.

It is also planned to grow flowers, it was explained, adding beauty to the scene.

"We believe that this beautification project will impress those driving thru Mokena or passing thru on the trains, that our people take pride in their town and that it is a good place to live," Cottingham said.

MARGUERITE OLSON, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Olson, 11301 W. 193d St., Mokena, is listed in "Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges. Report Farm Fire Damage At $75,000

Fire, the origin of which had not been determined on Monday, destroyed a large barn and contents on the farm occupied by Theodore Rooda, south of Frankfort, Sunday forenoon. It was reported that the damage was about $75,000.

The farm is owned by John Ludwig, of Lemont.

The fire was discovered about 9 o'clock by Everett Heatherwick, while he was flying a plane from the Frankfort Airport. The farm is south of the airport. Heatherwick saw smoke coming from the barn and turned in an alarm.

The Roodas were at church in Oak Lawn and no one was at home at the time.

The barn was a large structure, about 60 by 80 feet. Frank Fleck had 300 bales of straw stored there and Rooda, who engages in truck farming, lost a tractor, a new truck, a car and other types of farm machinery, besides a large quantity of baskets, crates and lugs--much of it new--that is used in harvesting produce.

The Mokena fire department sent a water truck to the scene, to give the Frankfort department a reserve supply. Firemen worked until noon before blaze was extinguished.

Fire Chief Lynn Kohlhaugen said Monday night that the cause of the Fire had not been determined.

Parcel Post Rates Rise

Area postmasters are reminding postal customers today that higher parcel post and catalog rates went into effect Saturday Oct. 19.

The rate increase will average 10.5 percent and in most cases will mean an additional ten cents postage per parcel.

The higher rates were approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission in July.

Under the new rates the minimum charge for local parcel delivery will go from 40 to 50 cents. The minimum charge for parcels destined outside the local delivery area will be raised from 50 cents to 60 cents.

Almost all parcels that are charged up to $1.10 under present rates will go up 10 cents. This accounts for more than 80 per cent of all parcel post, area postmasters pointed out.

There will be a 15-cent hike on most parcels now charged between $1.10 and $4, and a 20-cent increase on parcels now charged over $4.

Parcel post rates are based on the weight of the package and the distance it is mailed.

Higher rates for the delivery of packages and catalogs are required to bring revenue from this type of mail within four per cent of operating costs, as required by law, area Postmasters explained. The higher rates are designed to put parcels and catalog, which are fourth-class mail, on a break-even basis.

Additional revenue is needed from parcel post and catalogs to offset higher costs resulting from pay increases approved last year for Postal employees.

Halloween Parade At Cherry Hill Sunday

The Cherry Hill Home Owners Association will sponsor its seventh annual Halloween costume parade this Sunday at 2 p.m. Standard time, that is.

Participants will be from the Cherry Hill area and there will be four categories for judging, ages 2-5, 6-9, 10-13, and teenagers and adults.

An added attraction it was said, will be a family pumpkin decoration contest. In addition to cash awards for the best costumes, there will be prizes for the funniest and fanciest decorated pumpkin head. Only field grown pumpkins will be judged. In all there will be 16 cash prizes.

The parade will formed at 1:30 at Oakdale and Erskine, according to Leonard Wedic, chairman, move north to Dougal Rd., proceed east on Dougal to Pembroke, then to Erskine and west to the beginning.

Treats will be given all youngsters.

Mokena Lions Plan For Fruitcake Sale

Beginning Nov. 3 and running thru Nov. 9, the Mokena Lions will stage their annual fruitcake sale.

The event is timed so the cakes will be available for the two holidays--Thanksgiving and Christmas--when the serving of fruitcake is traditional.

Co-chairmen are Kenneth Heim and Jim Marti. The membership of the club has been divided into teams, captained by Tom Deeb, Jim Cooper, Clyde Bond, Art Omland, Lyman Teague Sr., John Winter, Walter Welsch and Don Wilson Jr.

These teams will make a door-to-door canvass to the village and the surrounding area and by Nov. 9 they expect to have disposed of all 67 dozen of the cakes ordered. Sixty-seven dozen count up to 804 fruit cakes.

Figured another way the Lions will sell more than a ton of fruitcake--2,412 pounds to be exact. Each cake weighs three pounds and the price is the same it has been in preceding years --$3.50 a cake.

If there should be anyone that the canvassers miss, and they would like to buy a fruitcake all they have to do is call either Heim or Marti, or any member of the Lions.

Proceeds from the sale will be used by the Lions Club to meet the cost of the various projects sponsored by the organization--local youth and community groups, with special emphasis on help for the blind or those with defective vision.

Death Takes Mokena Man

Harry A. Russell, 76, of 18806 S. 113 Avenue, Mokena, died suddenly, Friday, Oct. 18 in a Chicago hospital.

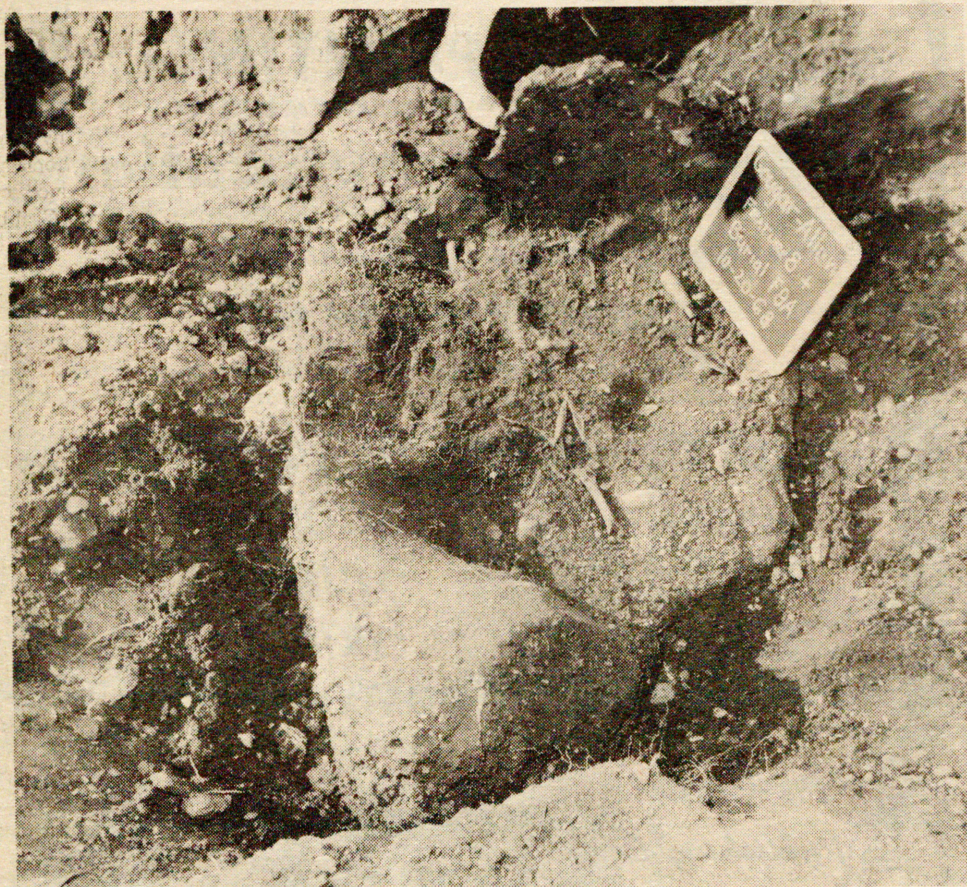

Previously from Missouri, he was born May 29, 1892, at Brainard, Neb.

Besides his wife, Elva, he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Ruth E. Coffey, Mokena and Mrs. Agnes Francis, Elba, Neb., one sister, Mrs. Abbie C. Stocke, Elberta, Ala., 10 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

The funeral was at Hirsch Memorial Chapel in Tinley Park, Monday, Oct. 21 at 1:30 p.m. The Rev. Glenn Dunbar, pastor of Mokena Methodist Church officiated. Interment was in St. John's Cemetery.

DR. ROBERT HALL, a professor of archeology at Circle Campus, U. of I., was getting close-up of the skull of an Indian that was believed to have been buried on the Gougar farm around 1800. The skull, broken in part, is within the legs of this camera support. It is a copying type camera and everything within the legs of the . . . quadpod . . . is registered on the film. A crew from the Chicago Circle Campus was at the site Sunday.

SLATE TELLS the story. It was posted in the middle of some Indian graves along Gougar Rd., on the property of the original Gougar homestead which back around 1830 served as the postoffice for the scattered pioneers in Joliet and other not too distant settlements. The property is now owned by Mrs. William E. Allen, who was a Gougar, and the old home, completely restored a couple of years ago, is now rented by Harry Gougar, a cousin of Mrs. Allen. The graves were known to exist but were never disturbed until recently when the state bought the strip of land containing them in order to widen Gougar Rd. Then the Will County Historical Society opened some of them up and removed six "burials," as the archeologists call them. Then last weekend a crew from Circle Campus, U. of I., Chicago, began working there. Charcoal, a few artifacts, and a gun flint were unearthed, as well as some more bones.

A DELICATE JOB, this digging up old bones and partial skeletons. When the diggers get down to the bones they work with trowels, whiskbrooms and sometimes soft paint brushes to guard against damaging their finds. The girl bending over, for example, was using a pair of scissors to trim fine roots sprouting from eye sockets and jaw. The person appeared to have had all his teeth. The young man is a student, and the intent young miss at graveside was an interested spectator at the site last Sunday.

New Learning Lab To Aid Language Study

A new learning laboratory will be one of the big improvements at Amos Alonzo Stagg High School later this fall when remodeling of room 209 is complete, foreign language teachers learned at a pre-school workshop.

The lab is not just a language lab, but can also be used by business classes and others needing tape recorders and individualized instruction in shorthand or other subjects, Mrs. Irene Gajecky, Stagg's foreign language department chairman said.

The new foreign language teachers this fall in District 230 include Rogelio Casiano, a graduate of Havana University who has done advanced work in Spanish at Roosevelt University. He taught bookkeeping in a junior college and was also an accountant and a baseball player. Casiano teaches Spanish at Stagg.

Miss Diane Hostetter is teaching Spanish and one class of English at Stagg. She's a graduate of Elmhurst College and this is her first year of teaching.

Jess Horwath attended high school in Chicago, graduated from Lewis College in Lockport, did graduate work at Middlebury College in Vermont, and teaches German at Stagg. He taught five years in Thornton Township High Schools and chaperoned eight students to Europe in 1966 under the auspices of the Foreign Language League. Horwath is also director of audio-visual services at Stagg.

Roald Smith is Sandburg's only new foreign language teacher. Smith teaches German and graduated from St. Olaf College in Minnesota. He has graduate credits from Southern Illinois University. Smith taught in Minnesota, Montana and at SIU as a graduate teaching assistant. He spent the summer of 1965 at Bad Boll-Goppingen, West Germany, as a National Defense Education Act scholar at a summer institute.

Student teachers in foreign language are Miss Anita Norris of Lebanon, Ill., who will practice teach French at Stagg. Miss Darlene Bizik, from Westchester, Ill., will practice teach Spanish at Carl Sandburg. Both young ladies are from the University of Illinois.

Plans Second Assessor's Unit

Nearly 11,000 home owners and other real estate owners in suburban Cook county have availed themselves this year of the special service provided by Assessor P.J. Cullerton thru his mobile field unit.

This year, Assessor Cullerton reported that the mobile unit, which is housed in a specially built trailer, was operated for 27 weeks from April 23 thru Oct. 5 at 18 different locations in the south and west suburbs of the county.

Staffed with a supervisor and a team of deputy assessors, the unit gives suburban owners of homes and other real estate the advantage of being able to inquire about their assessments without having to make the long trip to the assessor's main office in the county building in downtown Chicago.

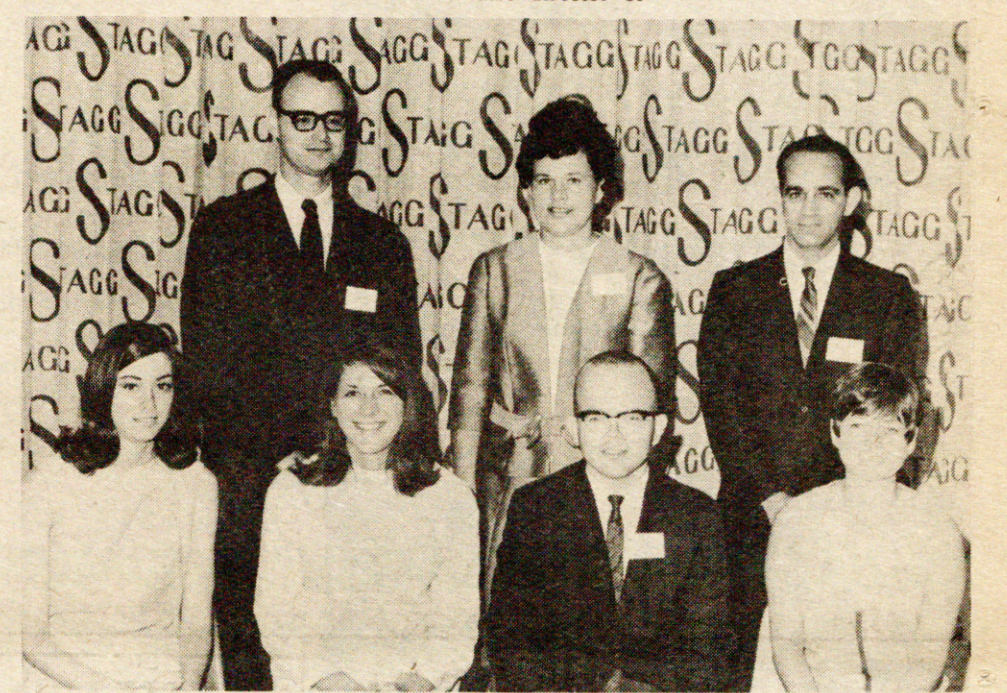

At the mobile field office, the deputy assessors are on hand to make immediate inspections of properties to clear up questions about assessments and to make adjustments wherever justified.

"An average of 80 property owners per day were served this year by our field unit," said Assessor Cullerton.

"In fact, our one mobile field unit has proved to be so popular with the suburban taxpayers that we are considering creating a second unit," Cullerton explained.

"The second unit would be placed in operation next year," Assessor Cullerton said, "and would enable our office to bring this special service to much more of the suburban area at the same time."

Radiation Hazard to Patients Cited

Copyright 1968 World Book Science Service

Controversy rages over the exposure of patients to man-made radiation (mrem) in medical procedures.

According to Dr. K. Z. Morgan, writing in the Oak Ridge National Laboratory News, 90 per cent of all radiation dosage in the U.S. is due to medical exposures.

The rest is attributed to weapons testing fallout, occupational hazards in the nuclear energy industry, radium dials on wrist watches, color TV, and X-ray shoe-fitting devices (which most states have outlawed).

Radiologists, on the other hand, insist that the 90 per cent figure is too high. They point to many natural sources of radiation to which humans have always been exposed.

Those who live in Denver, for instance, get a greater radiation dose one mile nearer the sun than do people living at sea level. Every plane flight adds exposure, as do certain rocks we walk over.

X-ray, a primary source of radiation, is one of medicine's most valuable diagnostic tools. The danger lies in unnecessary or excessive exposures that can cause death and genetic changes.

Medical MEMO

By BETTY JOHN

"Studies show that mortality from leukemia is 40 per cent higher among children whose mothers received diagnostic X-rays while pregnant, or even before conception," Morgan writes.

A routine series of dental X-rays can vary from 3,000 to 350,000 mrem units; a chest X-ray from 10 to 1,000. According to one radiologist, the newest photo-fluorogram method for chest pictures gives six to eight times more mrems than necessary at a time when responsible doctors are trying to cut the dosage considerably.

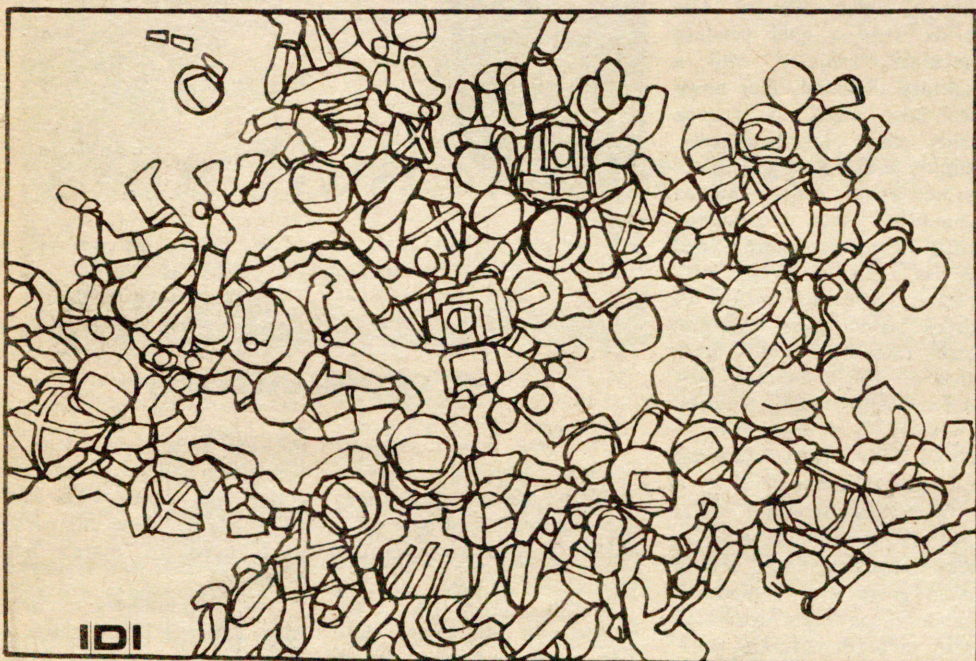

Dr. Morgan urges everyone to choose the best trained medical personnel to take only necessary X-rays with the most modern, protective and constantly inspected equipment.

COMPUTERED BABIES — The University of Chicago's Lying-In Hospital now has a computer that monitors the expectant mother's labor for several vital factors which are relayed to the obstetrician in his office by closed-circuit TV.

The Junior Scientist Dieting Via Gravity

Would you like to lose weight? Go into orbit!

Both American and Russian astronauts have experienced weight loss during space flights. Somehow the body seems to adjust to the conditions of zero gravity by releasing extra fluid.

The result is something like a 6 to 7 per cent drop in weight. Scientists are trying to figure out what's happening.

Here on Earth, gravity causes the blood in our bodies to be pulled down into our lower extremities.

In space, some of the four to six quarts of blood that is normally circulating in the legs apparently drifts upward into the chest cavity and swells it.

In the incredible machine that is the human body there appears to be some kind of a blood volume-sensing mechanism, and this may be located in the great veins in the chest.

Excess blood in these veins appears to trigger a complex chemical - physical response that causes the body to excrete extra fluid through the urine.

A similar kind of water loss occurs in people who are confined to a bed for long periods of time.

Scientists think this explanation is pretty good. But they're not quite positive yet. And no one is sure yet whether very long periods in orbit are going to have harmful effects on the astronauts' health.

In the flights made up to now, the astronauts have regained their normal weight a few days after landing and show no other long-lasting effects.

It seems that unless you plan to stay in orbit, space travel is just not a permanent way for you to slim down.

How many astronauts can you find in this picture? Some of them are pretty skinny and hard to spot.

EYE ON SCIENCE

By JOE COSTA

Aluminum, steel, and titanium aircraft parts may some day be fabricated by stretching them easily to the desired length.

A program at Lockheed Missiles and Space Company's Palo Alto, Cal., research laboratory has demonstrated that such metals may be stretched to as much as 20 times their original length without breaking.

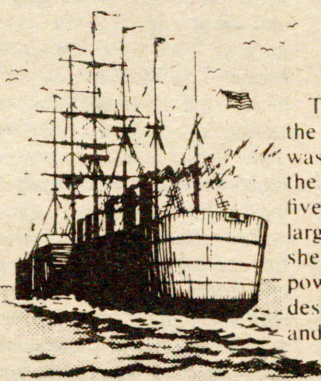

The phenomenon is called superplasticity. Lockheed's Dr. Charles M. Packer (shown in photo) and Dr. Oleg D. Sherby of Stanford University say successful stretch depends on the use of alloys of extremely fine grain and with nearly the same melting point.

The metals are heated to slightly more than half their alloys' melting points and stretched slowly enough to permit crystals to form as the metal lengthens.

Dr. Packer holds two samples in the before-and-after-stretching positions. They are enclosed in clear plastic.

BIGGEST SHIP

The Great Eastern, which laid the first successful Atlantic cable, was not only the largest ship in the world when launched, but five times the size of the next largest. Marine architects believe she had only a fraction of the power her huge bulk required, despite her sails, paddle wheels, and propeller.

Open Letter from the HIRSCHS'

Dear friends,

The other day a lady of our acquaintance said this, "I never realized until we had a loss in our family just how kind and neighborly people can be."

Whether our community is better in this respect than others we do not know, but we do know that neighbors here are remarkably kind and sympathetic. The importance of good neighbors to a family in distress just cannot be overemphasized.

Respectfully,

Because of this party "tricks and treats" will be limited the afternoon and early evening hours Oct. 30, and early on the evening of Halloween.

Will County Sheriff's Auxiliary Police will again patrol the Lincoln Estates area on Halloween.

The PTA meeting last week was held in the new all purpose room at the school. It is a pleasant room and those present were pleased with it.

Ag. Dept. Describes Its Vocational Program

Vocational Training in Agriculture Occupations is the statement that best describes the program offered by the Agricultural Occupations Department at Lincoln-Way High School.

Why the emphasis on vocational training? The facts are that a large percentage of high school students will attend college or will begin college and not complete a program. Therefore, vocational training is provided to prepare them for the labor market when they finish their high school education.

The staff in the Agricultural Occupations Department at Lincoln-Way High is providing vocational training for the students in the area of agricultural occupations. In order to give this training a three phase program is provided, the classroom phase, the agricultural mechanics experience instruction phase, and the on - the - job training phase.

The classroom phase of the agriculture program begins with students in their freshman and sophomore years. They receive instruction in the basic areas of plant, soil, and animal science; also, in basic shop skills and project work. This classroom instruction is primarily related to agricultural production.

With completion of the basic classroom work in production agriculture, the student then gets instruction in agricultural mechanics. Here students take courses dealing with electricity, electric motors and controls, woodwork and carpentry, welding, agricultural power and machinery, surveying, masonry, and building layout and design. These courses are designed to give the student occupational training in the mechanics laboratory.

The third phase of the occupational training program revolves around on-the-job training. In this program students are placed in businesses in the community to learn more about agriculture thru actual work in a business. On-the-job students receive practical experience in such areas as mechanics, partsman, machinery set-up, servicing, fertilizer plant operation, feeds, and horticulture production.

These students not only receive training on the job but are also enrolled in a classroom program that gives introduction in the operation of businesses. In this class situation, students learn not only about businesses but are also able to discuss problems that they encounter in their own job. Too, the student learns how to make job applications, interviews for jobs, and what qualities are needed to make a successful employee capable of advancement.

The agricultural occupations department is providing vocational training to students in Agricultural Occupations. When the student has completed the program he or she should be able to enter the labor market and do an outstanding job it was said.

STUDENTS RECEIVE practical on-the-job training in agricultural occupations. At the left is Earl Russell, of the L-W ag. department, and at the right is Erwin Yunker, owner of Yunker Implement Co., Orland Township, as an on-the-job instructor. Regulations For Hunting Waterfowl Illinois duck hunters will have a 30-day season this fall, The Illinois Department of Conservation announced today.

The season will open at sunrise, Saturday, Nov. 2, and end at sunset, Sunday, Dec. 1. Hunting hours will be from sunrise until sunset every day. The daily bag limit of three ducks may not include more than (a) one Canvasback or one redhead, (b) one mallard, (c) two wood ducks, (d) two black ducks.

The possession limit of six ducks may not include more than (a) one Canvasback or redhead, (b) two mallards, (c) four wood ducks (d) four black ducks. Hunters may not have more than the daily bag limit in their possession on opening day.

The daily limit on coots is 10 and the possession limit is 20. The limits on mergansers are five a day and 10 in possession, of which not more than one a day and two in possession may be hooded mergansers.

The mallard is the most important duck to the Illinois waterfowler. It is the duck he prefers to hunt and more mallards are taken in Illinois than any other species. Most of the mallards that migrate through Illinois are hatched and reared in the Prairie Provinces of Canada.

Poor water conditions have reduced the number of potholes and sloughs in the pothole country from about two million to less than 600,000. Potholes are small, shallow depressions that are filled with water in spring when snows melt. They are essential for mallard production.

But conditions must be right for meltwater to flow into the potholes and sloughs. Unless the soils hold enough moisture in fall to freeze hard, meltwaters percolate into the ground rather than run into the potholes. If soils freeze hard, snow accumulation is good and the spring thaw is rapid, the potholes fill. A few rains in spring tend to keep water levels up. But drought conditions have upset the balance and a few ducks were hatched in 1968.

The Department of Conservation has requested permission from the U.S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife to hold a special 14-day season on scaup or bluebills in the Keokuk Pool of the Mississippi, where the birds gather in great numbers during the fall flights.

If permission is granted, the season will begin at sunrise, Saturday, Oct. 19, and end at sunset, Friday, Nov. 1. During this season, bluebills may be hunted from the Keokuk Dam to the Fort Madison Bridge. The daily limit will be five scaup and the possession limit will be ten scaup.

Goose season began at sunrise, Monday, Oct. 14, and ends at sunset, Sunday, Dec. 1, except in Alexander, Union, Williamson and Jackson Counties. In those four southern counties where most of the Canada geese of the Mississippi Flyway winter, the season will begin at sunrise, Monday, Nov. 11, and end at 8 p.m., Sunday, Dec. 22, provided that a quota of 20,000 Canada geese is not reached before the scheduled closing date. In that event, the season will be closed immediately.

Hunting hours are from sunrise until 3 p.m. in Alexander, Union, Williamson and Jackson Counties and from sunrise until sunset elsewhere in the state.

The daily limit is five geese but may not include more than two Canadas or two white-fronted geese or one of each species. The possession limit of five geese may not include more than four Canadas, or two white-fronted geese, or four Canada geese and white fronts in the aggregate.

Geese bagged in Illinois may not be transported or shipped by common carrier, postal service or any individual, except as the personal baggage of the hunter who killed them.

The Kindergarten and the First Grade had a field trip to Van Horne Woods recently to observe the fall beauty around us.

Mrs. Corp, who has been teaching first grade, is turning over the grade, after an indoctrination period, to Miss Vivian Jacobson. Miss Jacobson is a graduate of Lincoln-Way High School and now resides in Mokena. She has had her elementary training and preceded her teaching career with three years in the business world.

Mrs. Corp will now act as critic teacher to articulate the programs in the first to second grade. She will eventually work toward blending the programs in the school from the kindergarten thru third grades, where there is the most need for efficient progress from one grade to the next.

The teachers are again meeting with the school board to discuss with them their expected programs, their progress and their problems.

From time to time there will be early dismissal to enable teachers to participate in a workshop with Mrs. Evelyn Glenn on Mathematics.

There has been an enlargement of the special education co-operative with the addition of one more classroom at the Oak View School in New Lenox. It is hoped that this will allow the waiting list to be eliminated.

Institute day will be held on Nov. 12 during which time there will be parent-teacher conferences held. Further instructions will be given out prior to the date so that each parent will know when to come. There will be no school on Nov. 12.

Mrs. Blackmen, the kindergarten teacher will be meeting with Mrs. Glenn to discuss the role of reading readiness in her class.

Within the next few months, the school board will have to consider the matter of a building referendum, since there are no empty classrooms and insufficient storage space and insufficient sanitary facilities. There will be no class which may be dropped, since kindergarten will be mandatory beginning with the 1969 school year.

The increase in real estate taxes necessitated by this referendum would amount to approximately $8 per year, varying with the assessed evaluation of your home.

Pioneer College -- Like It?

The search for a new name for the Joliet Junior College District 525 has been narrowed to Joliet Pioneer College, the tentative name chosen by the College board this week.

After considering several suggested names, the Board decided on Joliet Pioneer College because "it retains the designation of Joliet and the term 'pioneer' indicates that this was the first public junior college in the nation."

The Board would like to hear the public's reaction to this name, however, before it is officially adopted.

NI-Gas Nearing Its Millionth Customer

A gold gas meter, gold plated, that is -- symbolic of one-million customers -- will soon be installed somewhere in the service territory of Northern Illinois Gas Company.

Marvin Chandler, NI-Gas

chairman and president, said the utility expects to add its millionth customer sometime in November.

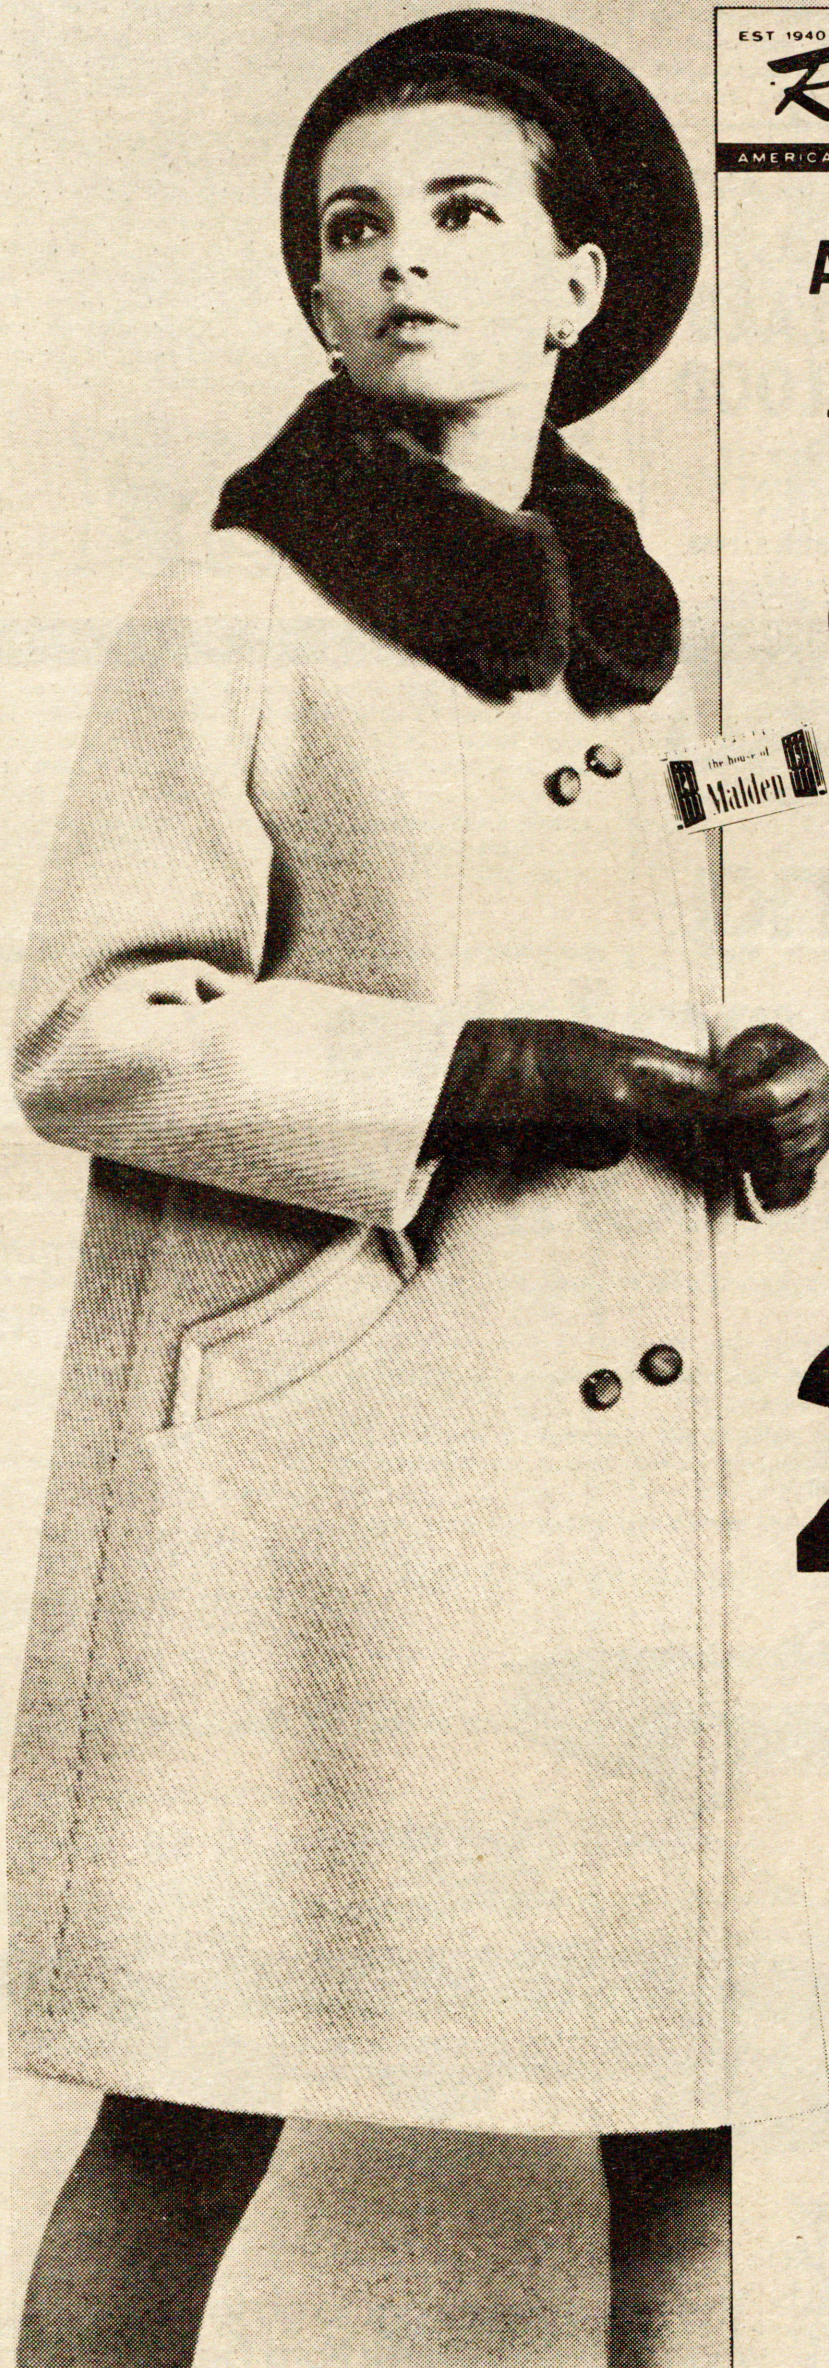

"This will be one of the most important milestones in our company's history, and we are planning appropriate ceremonies to mark the occasion," he said.

NI-Gas, one of the largest natural gas distribution companies in the country, will become a million-customer utility before it is 15 years old. The company began operating February, 1954, with 456,847 customers.

Chandler attributed the phenomenal rate of growth the company has enjoyed to the dynamic character of the area it serves.

Can Apply For Place At Jamboree

A total of 57 Boy Scouts and Explorers and five leaders from this area will attend the Seventh National Jamboree of the Boy Scouts of America next year, according to Al Menzer, chairman of the Jamboree committee for the Rainbow Council.

Requests for applications are now being accepted, Menzer said, and may be made by troop and post leaders to the Scout service center.

The National Jamboree -- limited to about 40,000 participants -- will be held at Farragut State Park, Idaho, from July 16 to 22, 1969.

Menzer said that all applicants will be interviewed by the selection committee in December, and names of approved participants will be announced by January

Boy Scouts who apply must have attained age 12 on or before Sept. 1, 1968 and have achieved Star rank by April 1, 1969, Menzer said. Explorers must be registered as Scouts or Explorers on or before July 1, 1968 and must meet requirements of camping experience, leadership, Scouting spirit, etc.

According to present plans the contingent from the Rainbow Council, which includes the counties of Will, Grundy and Kankakee will travel to Idaho by Northwest Orient jet plane. The proposed itinerary is as follows. Fly to Seattle - Tacoma Airport, leave for Mt. Ranier, hikes, sightseeing with dinner at the Paradise Inn returning to Seattle in the evening.

Next day bus and ferry to Taawwason-Schwartz Bay sightseeing in Victoria, British Columbia. Trip to and dinner at a typical logging camp returning to Victoria in the evening. The following day a visit to the British Columbia Parliament.

The next day by ferry to Port Angeles and motor coach to Hurrican Ridge for lunch then travel to Kians Lodge for a salmon bake and then to Seattle for the evening.

The fourth day would include a trip to the Seattle Science Center, Space Needle, Fun Forest and lunch, then flying from Seattle to the Spokane Airport and from there to the Jamboree at Farragut State Park for 7 days of the Jamboree.

Total costs for each boy will not exceed $395 and refunds will be made from this amount after all costs are in, following the Jamboree conclusion.

FRONT STREET must have looked something like this in the early days of Mokena when the thoroughfare was a dirt road, as well as the main one. One can see that it is all dug out, including the sidewalks. After gradings and a lot more work the base course will be laid and if the weatherman is kind it may be that the street will get paved this fall. This is the last section of the street to be widened and repaved, with the county bearing a large part of the cost as Front St. is part of the county road system. (Graphic Newspapers photo)

Check Furnace, NI-Gas

If your home is one of the more than 30 million in the U.S. that has a gas heating system, a minimum of routine maintenance measures will get it ready for cold weather.

According to Northern Illinois Gas Company, the following steps should be taken:

The filters should be changed regularly on forced warm air heating systems. NI-Gas recommends that this be done at least twice during the heating season.

The furnace fan or hot water circulating pump should be lubricated. This should be done at least three times annually.

Check your chimney. If it's blocked in any way, there won't be proper venting. Hold a hand mirror inside the chimney at the clean-out opening or at the lowest vent pipe connection. You should get reflected light if your chimney is clear of obstructions.

Check chimney connections. Make sure vent pipes fit snugly into the chimney.

Check the thermostat. Turn it up and wait until warm air begins to flow. Then turn it down and listen for the blower to shut itself off. If the unit passes this quick test, you can be sure that the pilot is on and that the thermostat and blower are in proper working order.

THE LAW SERVES YOU

"THE LAW SERVES YOU"

Your name is Kerczynitsky? You can become Jones. It's Smytherines. You can become Smith. In Illinois, it's so easy to change your name that hundreds of people do it every year.

According to the Illinois State Bar Association, a person may go through legal procedures to have his name changed by court action. This usually is advisable. The operation is simple, quick and inexpensive.

However, it is not absolutely necessary to go to court. A person can change his name simply by starting to use a new name. As long as the change isn't made for a fraudulent purpose, it's perfectly legal.

Many times lawyers receive questions like the one from a woman who was worried because her husband had shortened his name from 10-syllables to two, without going to court. He had used the short name on their marriage license. Her question: Were they legally married?

The Illinois law of names came as a happy surprise to her.

An electric dryer costs up to $40 less than a gas dryer. That's the first load off your mind.

Go ahead. Spend a few dollars less, and get the best clothes dryer going. It's the Electric Dryer.

Spend a lot of dollars less (as much as even $40 less), and still get the best clothes dryer going. It's still the Electric Dryer.

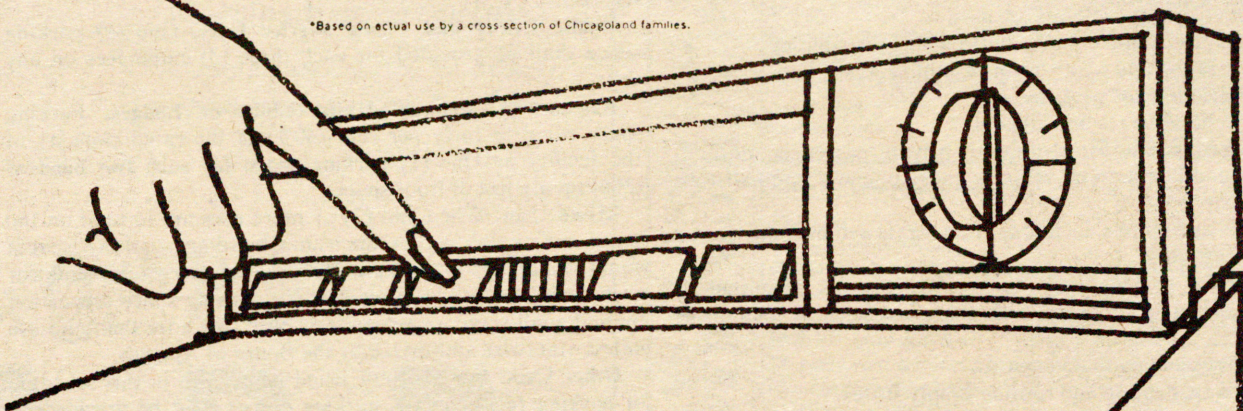

And when you get it home, you can run it for less than 30¢ a week! (So, actually, with that $40 you can save by buying an Electric Dryer, you can figure you're doing your laundry free for about three years!)

Meanwhile, you're also getting all the other advantages of electric drying: precise control, little or no maintenance, and gentle, radiant heat—like sunshine.

It's the all-in-one dryer that starts out being easy on your wallet and ends up being easy on your laundry—delicate fabrics to wash-and-wear. That's the Electric Dryer for you. It specializes in the right touch, start to finish.
